ST THOMAS HOME

ST THOMAS HOME FOR CHILDREN: BACKGROUND

St Thomas Home for Children is currently situated at No. 5 Williamson Place in Sydenham, Durban in 1959, under the auspices of the Durban Child Welfare Society. The Home was established to provide care and protection for abandoned, neglected, and vulnerable Coloured children from communities across the greater Durban area and the then Province of Natal.

By opening its doors to all children in 1987, marked a defining moment in the history of the organisation and reinforced its commitment to equality, dignity, and the protection of every child in need of care.

Today, St Thomas Home for Children has the capacity to care for 60 children between the ages of 2 and 10 years from across the eThekwin Metropolitan region and rural communities throughout KwaZulu-Natal. The current demographic profile of children in care reflects the ongoing socio-economic realities faced by vulnerable communities, with approximately 91% of the children being Black, 4% White, 5% coloured. Many of the children admitted to the Home come from impoverished informal settlements and under-resourced rural areas where families are affected by unemployment, inadequate housing, poor sanitation, and extreme poverty. These circumstances often contribute to neglect, abuse, and abandonment.

The Home continues to experience an increasing need for the admission of children with special needs, 7 children with learning disabilities, as well as children requiring specialised medical, psychological, and developmental support. Many children in our care present with chronic medical conditions, mental health challenges, trauma-related difficulties, and illnesses including HIV.

The growing incidence of crimes against children has also resulted in ongoing requests for the placement of children who have experienced physical, emotional, and sexual abuse. These children often arrive severely traumatised and require intensive therapeutic intervention, specialised child and youth care services, and a stable, nurturing environment in which they can begin to heal and rebuild their lives.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

ANDRÉ YOUNG

On behalf of the Board of St Thomas Home for Children, I extend my deepest gratitude to every individual, organisation, donor, volunteer, staff member, and community partner who has stood alongside us throughout this past year. Your generosity, compassion, prayers, and unwavering support continue to make it possible for us to provide care, protection, and hope to our wonderful children who depend on us each day.

This year has once again reminded us that the work of caring for children is never accomplished alone. It takes a community of committed hearts to nurture children who have experienced hardship and uncertainty. To our donors and supporters, thank you for believing in our mission and for continuing to invest in the lives and futures of our children. Your contributions, whether financial, practical, or through acts of kindness, have directly impacted the well-being, education, healing, and development of every child within our Home.

To our dedicated staff, our Manager Alicia Rose, Social Worker Mandisa Ntimbane, childcare workers, administration and support teams, together with the Board, please accept our deepest gratitude. Thank you for your tireless commitment and sacrifice. You are the hands and hearts that uphold the mission of St Thomas Home, often going far beyond what is expected to ensure that our children feel safe, loved, and valued.

I would also like to extend sincere appreciation to my fellow Board members for their continued commitment, guidance, and stewardship. Your dedication to ensuring the sustainability and future of the home is deeply valued. Special recognition must be given to our Treasurer for the excellent management of the home's financial resources and budget. In an increasingly difficult economic climate, responsible financial oversight and careful stewardship are essential to maintaining stability and accountability, and we are grateful for this exceptional contribution.

To the children of St Thomas Home, I want to leave a special message of encouragement. Each one of you are precious, valuable, and filled with potential. Your past circumstances do not define your future. You are capable of greatness, achievement, leadership, kindness, and success. Continue to believe in yourselves, work hard, remain hopeful, and never stop dreaming. There are many people who care deeply about you and who are committed to helping you build brighter futures. You are the reason we continue this important work.

As we look toward the future, we do so with both determination and realism. Significant changes are approaching within the Child and Youth Care sector in South Africa. The planned deinstitutionalisation of children's homes by 2030, together with uncertainty surrounding government funding, presents major challenges for organisations such as ours. These developments require us to rethink how we operate, sustain our services, and continue providing high-quality care for vulnerable children.

The legacy of the Roberts family who espoused a vision of compassion, refuge, and hope for vulnerable children, must not be allowed to fade. That legacy now belongs to all of us. It is our collective responsibility to ensure that this home continues to serve generations of children to come. We call upon the community to stand with us, support us, and help carry this legacy forward into the future.

We urgently appeal for volunteers willing to share their time, talents, skills, and knowledge with our children. We have musical instruments waiting for teachers, sports equipment waiting to be used, libraries waiting to inspire readers and future writers, and children waiting for mentors, tutors, coaches, and role models. Whether through education, sport, music, art, therapy, practical skills, maintenance, or mentorship, every contribution has the power to transform a child's life.

We also continue to appeal for financial assistance and support in all areas of the home's operations. The sustainability of St Thomas Home will depend on strong partnerships, innovative thinking, and the continued generosity of those who believe that every child deserves safety, dignity, opportunity, and love.

Despite the challenges ahead, we remain hopeful. St Thomas Home has weathered many storms over the years because of the resilience, faith, and compassion of the people who support this mission. Together, we can ensure that this home continues to be a place where vulnerable children are protected, nurtured, encouraged, and empowered to discover their full potential.

May we continue to work together in unity, compassion, and purpose for the sake of the children who need us most.

MANAGER'S REPORT

ALICIA ROSE

As Manager of St Thomas Home for Children, it is both a privilege and a profound responsibility to reflect on another year of caring for some of the most vulnerable members of our society, our orphaned, abandoned, and vulnerable children who depend on us not only for shelter, but for hope, healing, guidance, and the opportunity to dream beyond their circumstances.

At St Thomas Home, our mission has never changed. We remain steadfast in our commitment to providing every child with safety, nourishment, stability, love, and quality care in an environment that nurtures the body, spirit, and mind. Every child who enters our home deserves the opportunity to experience as normal a childhood as possible, despite the hardships they may have endured. For this reason, we work tirelessly to ensure that our children are integrated into the broader community through attendance at local schools, participation in educational and developmental programmes, and involvement in activities that build confidence, discipline, and self-worth.

Education remains one of the strongest foundations we can provide. Through schooling and individualized learning support, we seek to uncover each child's unique intelligence, abilities, and talents. We understand that every child carries untapped potential, and it is our duty to unlock that potential at an early age. Beyond academics, many of our children participate in speech therapy programmes to address developmental challenges and trauma-related delays, while karate and structured extracurricular activities assist in building discipline, emotional regulation, resilience, and positive behavioural development. These programmes restore dignity, purpose, and confidence to children who have often experienced instability and loss.

Central to our work is also the healing of emotional and trauma wounds. Many of the children entrusted to our care arrive carrying deep trauma. Through therapeutic programmes, compassionate caregiving, and consistent emotional support, we strive to create an environment where healing can begin. Equally important is the spiritual grounding we provide through Sunday School teachings, which help instil values, hope, faith, and a sense of identity rooted in the love of Jesus Christ. We believe that when children are nurtured spiritually as well as emotionally and intellectually, they are empowered to face life with courage and direction.

One of the most difficult realities we face each year is saying goodbye to our children when they reach the age of 10 and must transition to homes for older children. These moments are deeply emotional for both staff and children alike. Our hearts are always saddened as we watch them leave the safety and familiarity of the home that has become their family. Yet, we take comfort in knowing that the years spent at St Thomas Home have laid a strong foundation of learning, discipline, values, life skills, and spiritual guidance upon which they can continue building lives of excellence. Though they may leave their home physically, they forever remain part of the St Thomas family.

As we celebrate the achievements and milestones of the past year, we must also acknowledge the

CHILD CARE REPORT

At St Thomas Home for Children, we believe every child deserves more than a safe place to live. They deserve opportunities to discover their strengths, develop their talents, and build a hopeful future. Many of the children in our care have experienced trauma, neglect, and instability, making structured developmental programmes essential to their healing, growth, and self-confidence.

Our aim is to provide a balanced childhood through educational, emotional, recreational, practical, and spiritual opportunities that help children become resilient, confident, and well-rounded individuals.

Where We Are Winning

Educational Support

Additional academic support has been provided to learners who require assistance. Psychology volunteers conduct daily one-on-one reading sessions, helping children improve literacy, prepare for assessments, and develop effective learning techniques.

Therapeutic Support

Our partnership with Durban University of Technology, the University of KwaZulu-Natal, Sherwood Assessment Centre, and local hospitals ensures children receive speech therapy, trauma counselling, behavioural support, and emotional care. Our Social Worker continues to coordinate ongoing therapeutic interventions.

Behavioural Development

Karate has become an outstanding developmental programme, helping children build discipline, emotional regulation, confidence, and self-esteem. Our fishing programme, in partnership with Teach a Kid to Fish, has also been highly successful, teaching valuable life skills while encouraging teamwork and healthy competition. We are especially proud that our girls achieved first and second place in the programme.

Excursions and Spiritual Development

Regular outings to parks, beaches, theatres, botanical gardens, and other community attractions provide valuable educational and life experiences. Our children also actively participate in Sunday School and church events, strengthening their values, sense of belonging, and spiritual growth.

significant challenges that lie ahead. The child and youth care sector in South Africa is undergoing major transformation. The Department of Social Development has indicated that the deinstitutionalisation of children's homes is expected to take place by 2030, with a shift toward maintaining children within community and family-based care systems. While the intention is to create environments that offer children a more traditional family experience, this transition presents immense uncertainty for homes such as ours. Government funding, which has historically supported many child and youth care centres is no longer guaranteed, placing organisations like St Thomas Home at significant risk of non-funding and potential closure in the years ahead.

This reality requires us to think differently, act urgently, and prepare strategically. The baton is now being handed increasingly to communities, private individuals, donors, and the corporate sector to sustain the work of caring for vulnerable children. The future of organisations like ours will depend not only on compassion, but on innovation, sustainability, and the ability to adapt to a rapidly changing environment. We recognise that all non-profit organisations will be competing for limited resources and support, making it essential for us in future-proofing ourselves to build a future-focused and self-sustaining model that ensures the continued survival of our home and the legacy it carries.

Now more than ever, the role of the community becomes critical. We cannot do this work alone. The continued support of compassionate individuals, churches, businesses, volunteers, and partners will determine whether children in need continue to have access to safe spaces of refuge and care. As our needs evolve with the changing world around us, we remain committed to adapting, growing, and thriving rather than becoming burdened by fear of closure or uncertainty.

South Africans are no strangers to adversity. We are a nation shaped by resilience, survival, courage, and hope in the face of daily struggles and catastrophic change. It is this same spirit that gives us confidence that St Thomas Home will continue to rise above challenges and remain a beacon of hope for vulnerable children. Our purpose remains unwavering in providing shelter, food, safety, care, healing, education, and opportunity to every child entrusted to us.

Above all, we remain committed to unlocking potential, nurturing dreams, and creating opportunities that inspire children to discover purpose and believe in their future. Every child deserves the chance not merely to survive, but to flourish. At St Thomas Home, we will continue to uphold that promise with faith, determination, and hope for generations to come.

Where We Need Assistance

Despite our progress, several programmes require additional community support, including:

- Music and instrumental lessons
- Drama and creative arts
- Sports and recreational coaching
- Mechanics and practical skills development

Although we have equipment, facilities, and enthusiastic children, these programmes remain limited due to a shortage of skilled volunteers.

Challenges

Our greatest challenges remain limited funding, increasing operational costs, and the growing number of children requiring specialised educational and therapeutic support. Sustaining quality developmental programmes requires ongoing investment in resources, transport, equipment, and skilled facilitators.

A Call to the Community

Every person has a skill that can make a lasting difference in a child's life. We invite musicians, teachers, artists, coaches, mechanics, gardeners, therapists, tutors, and mentors to partner with us by sharing their time and expertise.

Conclusion

At St Thomas Home for Children, our programmes are more than activities—they are opportunities for healing, learning, confidence, and hope. With the support of our community, businesses, volunteers, and donors, we can continue creating an environment where every child is encouraged to discover their potential and believe that their future is not defined by their past.

SOCIAL WORKER'S REPORT

Mandisa Ntimbane

Greetings to the Chairperson and Board of Management, colleagues, stakeholders and guests.

It is my privilege to present the Social Work Report for the reporting period.

During the year under review, we continued to provide care, protection, support, supervision and developmental services to children placed at St Thomas Home. The Home currently accommodates children aged 2 to 10 years and cared for 55 children during the reporting period which is made up of 27 girls and 28 boys.

More than 20 children were granted leave of absence to spend time with their families during school holidays and weekends as part of the family re-unification process. Follow-up visits and monitoring were conducted in collaboration with placement social workers from the Department of Social Development and Child Welfare to ensure the children's safety and well-being.

A total of 6 children were successfully re-unified. 2 with non-related foster parents and 4 with their biological families. 5 children were transferred to other children's homes due to age requirements, while new admissions via court order were done through assessments, counselling and care planning to assist with their adjustment.

Education remained a key priority. School meetings were attended regularly and educational assessments were arranged for children experiencing learning difficulties. We are grateful for our partnership with the Durban University of Technology (Radiography Department) whose students provided homework support and educational activities for our children and volunteer by the name of Thando Cele who has been helping our children with remedial intervention.

One notable success involved a child who was struggling academically in a mainstream school. Following an educational assessment and placement in a special school, she has made remarkable progress and achieved awards in all her learning areas.

Throughout the year, statutory responsibilities were fulfilled through court reviews, meetings, and the submission of required reports. Despite challenges related to behaviour, family circumstances and educational barriers we remained committed to promote care, protection and development of every child.

I would like to thank management, colleagues, schools, stakeholders, and families for their continued support. Together we continue to provide a safe, nurturing environment where every child can grow and succeed.

Thank you.

OUR VALUED PARTNERS

The work of St Thomas Home for Children is made possible through the generosity, commitment and shared vision of organisations that believe every child deserves a safe, nurturing environment in which to grow and thrive. We are privileged to acknowledge the following partners whose support continues to make a meaningful difference in the lives of the children in our care.

Rivers Foundation

The Rivers Foundation is dedicated to uplifting disadvantaged individuals and strengthening communities through practical support, skills development and sustainable initiatives. We are honoured to be one of the organisations they support.

Their partnership extends far beyond financial assistance. From hosting Christmas and Easter celebrations and providing school stationery to helping develop our outdoor multi-purpose space, the Rivers Foundation has enriched the lives of our children in countless ways. We sincerely thank the Foundation, its trustees, donors and volunteers for their ongoing generosity and commitment.

The Victor Daitz Foundation

The Victor Daitz Foundation continues the legacy of the late Victor Daitz, whose vision was to improve the lives of vulnerable communities through philanthropy. The Foundation supports organisations that demonstrate strong governance and create lasting social impact.

We are deeply grateful for their investment in the wellbeing, education and development of our children. Their support enables us to continue providing a safe, loving and nurturing home where every child has the opportunity to thrive.

Community Chest

For many years, Community Chest has connected generous donors with organisations creating positive social change. Through careful stewardship and accountability, they ensure that funding reaches programmes where it has the greatest impact.

Their annual grant assists St Thomas Home in providing quality residential care, education, therapeutic services and developmental opportunities for vulnerable children. We sincerely appreciate their continued confidence in our work and their investment in the future of the children we serve.

Department of Social Development

The KwaZulu-Natal Department of Social Development remains a central and strategic partner in fulfilling our child protection mandate. Through subsidy funding, statutory oversight and professional guidance, the Department enables Child and Youth Care Centres such as St Thomas Home to provide safe, compliant and quality residential care.

Beyond financial support, the Department works closely with our management and social work teams to ensure that every child receives appropriate care, protection and developmental support. We extend our sincere appreciation for their continued partnership and commitment to safeguarding vulnerable children throughout KwaZulu-Natal.

Design Group

St Thomas Home for Children are incredibly grateful to the Design Group for their remarkably generous financial contribution. Their steadfast support not only empowers our mission but also reflects the community-minded spirit that makes them such a valuable partner. Thank you for investing in our vision and the future generation. Your healthy contribution has made the burden of the day to day operations much lighter. As we continue to journey together to give our children the best lives possible, know that we are eternally grateful to you.

Doble Group

Doble Engineering has proven that their commitment extends far beyond blueprints and builds. Their generous financial contribution has left us humbled and deeply thankful. In an industry built on precision, they've shown extraordinary heart, and we are proud to count them among our most valued supporters.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Mrs. Anita Johannes

The home generated total income for the 2025_2026 financial year of R4 372 376 (2024_2025 – R3 859 989) which represents a 13% increase. This is commendable given the present challenges facing NPOs in the donor and sponsorship sphere.

Of the total income, R2 731 809 was a subsidy from the Department of Social Development which makes up 62% of total income. Other grants and sponsorships of R497 278 were received from Ubuntu Community Chest, Rivers Foundation, Deloitte and the Victor Daitz Foundation. Cash and in-kind donations represent 26% of total income.

The home has also endured increased cost pressures. The Board of Management and all stakeholders had to rally together to look at creative ways in generating income to sustain the home in order to provide a much-needed service to our children.

Tight monetary control realized expenditure of R4 900 105 for the 2025_2026 financial year increasing by 9% from the previous year. I commend the Board of Management, Management, and staff for their fiscal discipline.

The Home operated at a deficit of R242 848 for the 2025-2026 financial year compared to a deficit of R152 960 for the year ended 31 March 2025.

Bank and investments balances have increased from R2 711 168 at the end of previous financial year to R2 773 223 as of 31 March 2026.

In conclusion I thank the Board of Management, Management, and staff of the home in their efforts towards creating a safe environment and upholding the rights of children by providing special care and assistance at the home whilst exercising financial discipline and sound corporate governance.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

St. Thomas Home for Children kicked off this year with an advertisement for volunteers, and we were blown away by the response. Thanks to this incredible team, we have accomplished a tremendous amount of work from finance and administration to general assistance and hands-on care for our children.

As we reflect on all that has been achieved, we want to take a moment to honour the faces behind the hard work, especially those who have been with us for decades.

A Lifetime of Service: Our Long-Standing Heroes

Linda Mohamed has been volunteering for over twenty years. She began working in the garage when it was a charity shop. Today, she runs our charity drives using her built-up network of hawkers who come to buy and sell the clothing, linen, and other goods that have been donated but that the Home does not need for its own purposes. When asked why she does it, Linda says she "loves children and believes it's a blessing to give of her time." She has truly been the constant in running the charity at St Thomas Home.

Rachel Jamalie has also dedicated decades to St Thomas Home. She first started out in the Early Childhood Development Centre (ECD), and when that programme ended, she seamlessly continued helping with the charity drives. Her loyalty knows no bounds.

Then there is Priscilla Diedrick, who has seen so many years at St. Thomas Home that she can't remember how many! A few days every week, she comes to sift through the donations and sort them out. It is a task that is not always pleasant, but she pitches up early in the morning, sitting outside the storage container and garage, going lovingly through every bag and box to sort items for resale at the charity drive. Priscilla is invaluable. Her task is time-consuming, and without her, there is no one else to do it. On top of that, she fills in as a cook and helps with any other task at the home.

Please join us in thanking Linda, Rachel, and Priscilla from the bottom of our hearts.

New Faces, Fresh Blessings

We have also been blessed by new volunteers this year.

Tiffany Gabriel has come on board as a volunteer driver. She has a PDP and is an experienced driver who helps us with collections in our 32-year-old bakkie. She also steps in when our regular driver cannot be in two places at once. Her service is a blessing, as it is very hard to find drivers willing to come to the home at the drop of a hat.

This year, we had the pleasure of meeting Bronwyn, who stepped up to create a spectacular Easter programme. She worked tirelessly to ensure our children had a holiday full of fun. The programme included a senior citizens' tea party for our elderly neighbours at Mary Asher Home (where our children baked treats and served tea), a trip to Umgeni Bird Park, an Easter egg hunt, and so much more.

We also owe a debt of gratitude to Thando, a psychology graduate, who volunteered every day for the first half of the year offering daily academic support to children with learning challenges. Each day, she travelled to and from the home to hold individual sessions. We have seen remarkable improvement in these children, both in behaviour and academic performance.

Finally, Clerise, also a psychology graduate, shadowed our Manager and provided crucial assistance with administration in the Manager's office.

To every single one of you – thank you. You have changed our home for the better.

An Urgent Plea for More Volunteers

Despite this wonderful response, our needs are still great.

We urgently need more volunteers in the following areas:

- Academic Support: Children still need help with homework and basic literacy/numeracy. Education students or graduates would be a dream.
- Event & Programme Planning: We would love to replicate the success of Bronwyn's Easter programme for other holidays.
- General Assistance: From cooking to admin, if you have a skill, we can use it.

If you have any time to spare – even a few hours a week – please come and join our family. You do not need to commit to twenty years like Linda. You just need a willing heart.

To offer your time, please contact St Thomas Home today.

"It's a blessing to give of your time." – Linda Mohamed

Let's keep that blessing going.
